

TWELVE FACTS EVERY CHRISTIAN EDUCATOR SHOULD KNOW ABOUT RELATIONSHIPS

By Patricia Malloy, B.S. M.A.

- R - Respecting God through our worship, and others through love, is key to living out: "...everyone who is fully trained will be like his teacher."
Luke 6:40.
- E - Encourage one another as you learn together, speaking uplifting words to bring joy to accomplishments. Hebrews 10:25
- L - Listen with more than your ears...listen with your heart and a true revelation of learning will result. Proverbs 18:13
- A - Appreciate every student and what he or she means to the Lord; and both the student and the teacher will be blessed. Ephesians 5:20
- T - Trust is vital to interactions in our schools, and it is based on our faith in an absolutely trustworthy God. Proverbs 3:5-8
- I - Integrity in every aspect of our work, whether it is instructing or reporting student progress to a parent, reflects the Lord we serve. Proverbs 11:3
- O - Order offers opportunities to model better study habits...putting first things first, making priorities work! I Corinthians 14:40
- N - Nurture students in their faith; walk the talk; be Jesus to others! Show care in our call to teach! I Corinthians 13:8a
- S - Synergy creates a picture of the body of Christ, doing together what we cannot do alone! I Corinthians 12:27
- H - Hope is the beacon for educational success - hope in the Lord, and His work in each student's heart! Romans 15:13
- I - Ideals of academic excellence are accomplished when we honor God in all we teach and model. Philippians 4:8
- P - Pardon every mistake and praise every accomplishment - and children will blossom as they grow and learn in an environment of acceptance. Colossians 3:13
